

Work Begins on 'Viking' Annual

Work on the 128 page "Viking" yearbook for 1961 has begun under the supervision of Dr. Wilbur Keeling, staff advisor, and Jeannie Nordgaard and Glenna Mae Zaun, co-editors.

Glenna and Jeannie

Both co-editors are graduates of Valley City High School. Jeannie is a senior, with a composite major in business, and a major in English. Glenna, a third quarter junior, is an elementary major. She is also working towards a major in English.

The section editors chosen for this yearbook are: Memories, Darlene Brunsvold and Kathy Kleingartner; Classes, Ramona Starke and Sherry Blixt; Administration, Gwen Simonson and Carl Ziegelmann; Organizations, Lon Miller and Andrea Zaun; Athletics, Robert Sogn, Stanley Linert, Diane Trautman, and Marcia Bemis.

Business manager for this year's edition of the Viking is Bob Rieth. Tom McCord, Charles Schroeder, and Claire Marie Flegel are in charge of photography. The art work will be done by Rebecca Raveling and Johanna Limvere.

The goal of the staff this year will be to make the 1961 "Viking" an interesting condensed review of the highlights of this year's activities, and to serve as a "memory book" for those who attended STC.

Aid to Education Is Dem-Rep Topic For SEA Debate Tonight

Thursday, November 3, the Valley City Student National Education Association is sponsoring a debate-discussion on "Federal Aid To Education" in the auditorium at 7:15 p. m. Republicans Tom McCord, Charles Schroeder, and Joan Zimmerman and Democrats Johanna Limvere, Lon Miller, and Pat Welch compose the Federal Aid to Education panel, moderated by Mr. William Keineth.

Various questions and issues which now have great significance in the educational scene will be brought up and discussed by panel members. If the panel members deplete their supply of issues and questions, Mr. Keineth will supply additional questions or issues. A question-and-answer period with no time limit will be held for the benefit of the audience. All audience members are urged to bring up any issues or questions of importance or misunderstanding to them and direct them to the person or party of their choice.

All Young Republicans and Democrats, Teen Republicans and Democrats, Republican and Democratic workers, educational personnel, and all other interested persons are urged to attend.

Viking Tour Set For Mexico Visit

Friday, December 23, has been set as the date for the Viking "Christmas" Tour which this year will visit Mexico. George Kennedy, head of the geography department at STC, will conduct the tour which will feature eleven days and ten nights in Mexico.

Some points of interest that will be visited on the tour are Mexico City, Chapultepec Castle, the Pyramids, Guadalupe Shrine, University City, the Gardens of Xochimilco, Cuernavaca, Borda Gardens, the Diego Rivera Murals, and the Aztec Ruins.

The cost of the tour is $497. This includes the following: Jet airline transport to and from Mexico City; all hotel accommodations; all sight-seeing and special activities; motor trips and transportation in limousines or deluxe Pullman bus; services of an English speaking guide; all meals in Mexico except those in Mexico City; and two special Christmas surprises. An allowance of 44 pounds of baggage has been made for each individual.

The tour group will stay in Mexico until January 2, and will be home January 3. Anyone who is interested in the tour should contact Mr. Kennedy at the college as soon as possible, so that final arrangements may be made.

Carnavale, Kundla to Head 1960 Coaching Clinic Staff

Two of the country's outstanding basketball coaches, Ben Carnevale of Navy, and John Kundla of Minnesota, will be featured at the 19th annual sports clinic to be held at Valley City State Teachers' College

The sports clinic will also include sessions of basketball rules interpretations and wrestling. The STC Vikings, winners of four consecutive NDIAC championships, on Thanksgiving weekend, November 25 and 26. The clinic is sponsored by the STC athletic department, and will be directed again this year by Bill Osmon, head basketball coach of the Vikings.

Both featured coaches have long and illustrious backgrounds in coaching. Ben Carnevale has been head basketball coach of the United States Naval Academy for fourteen years. During this time he has been named "Coach of the Year" and his teams have won 198 games while losing only 98. Before coming to Annapolis, his teams won two Southern conference championships, while he was coaching at the University of North Carolina.

John Kundla, coach of the University of Minnesota Gophers, has just completed one year in the Big Ten Conference. Kundla was coach of the professional Lakers from 1947-1959 during which time the Lakers won six world championships and one Western division title.

KUNDLA

will play the Huron College Scalpers on Friday, November 25, in the feature basketball game of the clinic.

Don Dehne, whose Valley City High School Hi-Liners won the state Class A basketball championship last year, will discuss basketball at the clinic. Bill Koll, successful wrestling coach of Iowa State Teachers College, will discuss wrestling.

The sessions on basketball rules interpretations will be headed by Sid Grande, coach at Jamestown College, and Al Meyer, coach at Mayville State Teachers College. Al Schultz, wrestling coach at Minot State Teachers College will head the wrestling rules interpretation session.

Men's Stag Party Will Be Tonight

Tonight at 7:30 p. m., the Grill and Recreation Room will be the scene of STC's annual Men's Stag Night. The purpose of the event is to give men students an opportunity to become better acquainted with other men students, and to learn more about the Hesperian, Tau Sig, and EBC societies on campus.

All male students are invited to attend the Stag Night which is sponsored by the Men's Inter-Society Council. Entertainment will include card games, a movie, introductions to the societies, and lunch.

President of the Men's Inter-Society Council, George Gaulder, has this to say, "We hope that every man on campus will accept this invitation for an evening of fun, and help us make Stag Night a big success."

The $450,000 edifice is scheduled for completion in 1961, and will be used as a fieldhouse and classroom building. The fieldhouse proper will be 130 feet square, with a 76x62 foot classroom addition on the north side of the building.

Meditations

A Time To Think

Walking down the hall the other day, I was suddenly struck by the thought that here at STC, a wonderful thing is taking place. I'm speaking specifically about two tables that are placed in close proximity to the rec room door. As closely as I can determine, one of these tables is strictly Democrat while the other is strictly Republican.

It makes absolutely no difference which table is where; the significant thing is that the tables are there at all.

I'm not going to go into descriptions about functions and parties and so forth, but I'd like to bend your ear in other ways—about things that are vitally important to all of us.

What party are you for? Which man do you think is the Best Man? What are your reasons for your choices? Even if all of you are not of voting age, every one of you should have an answer to these questions and other questions equally as important.

In connection with the whole election issue, just remember that a portion of this country is yours, just as surely as though you held title or deed to it! For that reason the selection of the Chief Executive and lesser dignitaries charged with the affairs of the nation and the individual states should be of immediate concern to you. An attitude that smacks of "My one vote makes no difference," "I won't vote because I don't like either man," or "I just don't have the time" is not only anti-patriotic and stupid, it's anti-you, and a direct denial of your responsibilities.

I'll cut it off right there with a great big BRAVO to STC for allowing the two tables to exist; a lousy HUZDAH to those students taking an active part in these affairs and a Pat on The Back to those who seek the answers to those questions noted previously herein with the view to casting their vote intelligently and wisely. To the rest of you: I'd shake each one of you personally, if I thought I could and if I thought it would do any good. Aside from that I can only offer pity and compassion—to you and to our country.

A Time To Think

On November 11, 1960, this nation will observe Veterans' Day. The idea behind the whole thing is to devote some time, during the course of a busy year taken up with other things, to thinking about those gallant men and women who have made it possible for this nation to endure.

This is a time, especially, to thank those who made the final effort; the supreme sacrifice for the continuance of their country and the perpetuation of ideas and ideals that are unique. For a change let us each try to think, on this Veterans' Day, not only of the veterans from the conflicts within our own time, but also of those from other wars that belong to our glorious past. Those veterans also deserve a place in our thoughts on Nov. 11.

Have any of you, besides actual veterans, ever thought about some of the feelings that pass through a soldier's mind? Maybe the following will help you gain an insight; help you better to participate in the Memorium that is Veterans' Day. The following lines are excerpted from the poem, "Rain". Aside from

Secretary Tells All

By JEANETTE SCHAACK

What picture enters your mind when you hear the word "secretary"—a glamorous, exciting job with terrific pay, short hours, many, many the obvious references to the Korean Landscape, it could have been written by any of our veterans—anywhere—any time:

A wispy tendril of cloud
Softens the jagged peak of Papasan
The raindrops fall in loud
And endless streams.

Secured in holes that lie
Beneath the layers of Korean Soil,
Are the soldiers dead and yet to die;
Owners of this crazy world.

Sometimes friend, sometimes foe;
The ceaseless fall of moisture
Brings respite from bullet's blow,
Yet brings discomfort to body and soul.

The great uncharted space
Extending high above our lowly earth
Presents to us its tear filled face,
And cries as we also cry.

A Time To Toodle-oo

This marks the end of Madcap Mac's undergraduate columns. At the end of this quarter, I shall depart from STC forever—as a student. This has truly been a good time for me in all ways.

Sitting here thinking about how I would sing my swan song, I remembered hearing an address one time where the speaker made a farewell that impressed me so much that I immediately committed it to memory. I would like to repeat it here for you (insofar as my memory serves me correctly) as my means of farewell to all of you. This is not an original thing and insofar as I have been able to determine has no recognized author. Here goes—

Farewell, my friends,
Farewell and hail!
I'm off to seek the holy grail.
I cannot tell you where, or why.
Toodely, woody, toodle-oo!
I'd much prefer to stay with you,
But here I go (GOODBYE!).

coffee breaks, and maybe even a little lap sitting or a short chase around the office?

Well, guys and gals, this may be the true picture in some utopian office, but it's not so at VCSTC. Working for one of the slavedrivers (excuse me, teachers) at our college is far from paradise. Oh, but you think to yourself, "Wouldn't it be nice to work for Mr. X. This quarter I have seven hours from him, and a bit of banana oil never hurt any grade; and, of course, I could correct all the test papers."

That's what you think! As your boss hands you the test papers to correct (which, contrary to popular opinion, you are seeing for the first time after you've taken the test), he skillfully removes your test paper saying, "It's better if I correct your test. Of course, there's nothing personal involved." What he really means is, "It isn't that I think you'd cheat, it's just that you have a dishonest face."

But just imagine, you meditate further, how handy it is to just go from class to work. Too handy is nearer the truth. In fact, you may even be taking dictation during the ten-minute breaks between classes. As for all those free periods you formerly spent on "Grill Methods", after your appointment as an all-around-Jill-of-all-trades secretary, they are a pleasure of the past. You may pass through the grill once in a while, since your boss spends much time there and you may have to call him to the telephone or get his signature on an urgent letter.

The best (or should the word be worst) is yet to come. Almost any job can be tolerated for an enticing salary. But, if you pause to meditate on the fabulous reimbursement offered by a VCSTC secretarial job, you begin to wonder whether or not you're doing charity work. Anyone who works for such peon wages must either be "way, way out" or else "really digs the work."

There is, however, one compensation for the job. You'll be working for one of the best people in the world—a teacher.

Letters TO EDITOR

Once more cheating is taking its toll at Valley City State Teachers College. We feel this is a problem that must be dealt with now. Once this menace starts, it grows like a cancer choking out the honest and responsible students of the college. At the same time it destroys the person that is immature enough to employ such methods.

We must examine the people that are responsible in order to curb this sort of activity. The responsibilities fall into three classes in regards to cheating: the student, the faculty, and the administration. Each of these groups have a responsibility to the other two, and without full cooperation accomplishment will fail.

Let us examine each group involved in cheating. The student has the greatest responsibility on his own shoulders. His moral standing is at stake, as well as the moral reflection that he casts on the college. The student should have full realization of the harm he is doing himself. The knowledge he loses in each case of cheating will help stymie him from being successful in his teaching profession.

Secondly, the faculty should use more caution concerning the test information. Part of the cheating could be eliminated by changing written assignments and tests from quarter to quarter. This would not give the student the opportunity to cheat in many cases. The faculty being aware of this problem of cheating should institute a more rigid plan in administering tests.

Third, the administration of this college should create and enforce strict rules in regard to cheating. Students caught should not be shown leniency and should be punished severely. With the administration comes the responsibility of supporting the faculty in its endeavor to stop cheating.

We recommend that each group examine this problem closely and tighten its policy. The student council, as our representative body should take the initiative of obtaining information from various colleges that employ the honor system and attempt to establish such a system on our campus. Then co-ordinating with the other two units they should formulate an honor system that is suitable and practicable for Valley City State Teachers College.

STC Art Festival Set for April 12-15

April 12-15, 1961, have been set as the dates for the second Valley City Arts Festival, according to Mr. Carl Emmerich, college art instructor.

The festival this year will consist of a showing of art work done by college students and faculty, as well as that done by amateur artists in the area. A special feature of this year's show will be the appearance of Vincent Price, nationally known stage and screen personality.

Prizes will be given to those whose paintings are adjudged best in the amateur group, but no prizes will be awarded in the college group.

Value of Religion Emphasized at STC

Special observance of religion on STC campus was held on October 25, 26, and 27. The Inter-Religious Council joined forces to bring STC students face to face with the importance of religion in their daily lives. A variety of events took place ranging from talks and discussions to a drama production and a choir performance.

A schedule of the activities was as follows:

On Tuesday, October 25, the Rev. Father Olson of St. Mary's Cathedral in Fargo was the guest speaker at an 11:00 a. m. Convo and Gloria Carlson sang a solo. A movie, "All God's Children" was shown at 8:00 p. m., followed by a social hour in the recreation room.

Wednesday, October 26, all the religious groups on campus met for their individual meetings at 7:15 p. m., after which a drama entitled "Let Your Light So Shine" was performed in the auditorium with students from the different religious groups participating.

Thursday, October 27, a 10:00 a. m. Convo was conducted at which the STC choir sang and Rev. Richard Atkinson, a STC student, was guest speaker. Climaxing the activities for the week was the performance by the Concordia Choir from Concordia College, Moorhead, Minnesota.

Student Council Acts on Issues

Various topics of discussion and action have been under fire at recent STC Student Council meetings. One such action resulted in a decision to close the grill, recreation room, and smoker during convocation sessions.

A second action of the council will affect STCers' pocketbooks. When each student obtains this year's annual, he will be required to pay a dollar which will be used to alleviate the present yearbook deficit.

Another topic under consideration of the council is the possibility of scheduling noon classes. This would provide a greater flexibility in the scheduling of classes for STC students, and would somewhat lessen the rush and congestion at noon. No definite action has been taken.

Through a suggestion formulated in the council, each society will contribute five dollars toward the purchase of a turntable for the hi-fi set in the recreation room.

With homecoming over for another year, STC societies are making plans for the fall rush parties.

The Clonian society held its annual Balloon Dance on October 21. The next project is the selling of Christmas cards. Many of the girls have ordered their Clonian jackets.

Mr. Paul Dunham has become an advisor for the Tau Sigs. Society members are busy with plans for the Winter Registration Dance and with plans for rushing.

The Atheneums are planning a Thanksgiving Dance for November 18. A trip to Howard's on November 15 and a rush party on November 22 fill the remainder of the month for this society.

A new constitution has been drawn up by the Hespies. They are also busy with plans for an exciting rush party.

A dance, September Song, and the annual Hen Party for members of women's societies have kept the Philomathians busy. At present, plans are being made for the rush party.

The Delphi Directory has been completed and is available free to all students. On October 25, the society enjoyed a supper at the homes of Miss Snoeyenbos and Mrs. Richter. A Halloween Dance was held on October 28.

On November 19 the EBCs will sponsor a dance in the rec room.

Young Democrats and Young Republicans plan a joint election return party in the rec room on November 8 from 8 p. m. to 12 midnight. These groups also supervised the poll of students taken at Convo today.

AWS Board Elects STC Students Officers for '60-'61 Receive Grants

Officers have been chosen for the Association of Women Students, the organization which represents every woman student enrolled at STC.

Those elected by the AWS Board were Glenna Zaun, president; Velette Peterson, vice president; Marjorie Nutz, secretary; and Donna Spillum, treasurer.

The AWS sponsors the Clash Party, the Mistletoe Formal, teas, and the annual Spring Banquet, which climaxes the year's activities for STC women students.

Geography Society Visits South Dakota

Headed for the Badlands and the Black Hills of South Dakota, Gamma Theta Upsilon, professional geography fraternity, set out on its annual field trip, Friday, September 23.

The group consisted of Isabel Prescott, Leon Johnson, Gwen Simonson, Foster Hager, Clark Nielson, Janice Anderson, and co-sponsors Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Keinath.

During the three-day excursion, the travelers visited such places as Devils Tower in Wyoming, Deadwood, Mount Rushmore, Crystal Caves, South Dakota Badlands, and other scenic spots. They returned to Valley City on Monday morning.

Scholarships have been awarded to several students at STC this year. These grants include the EBC Society Scholarship, the Tau Sig Society Scholarship, the Zonta International, the Edith Van Middlesworth Memorial Fund Scholarship, the Legion Scholarship, and the State of North Dakota Scholarship.

The following received these awards: EBC Society Scholarship, Gordon Baumgartner; Tau Sig Society Scholarship, Mrs. Gerald Braunberger and Claude Sheldon; Zonta International, Duane Lawrence; Edith Van Middlesworth Memorial Fund Scholarship, Meredith Holm, Richard Bernard, Mary Endres, and Duane Bock; Legion Scholarship, Robert Mitzel; State of North Dakota Scholarship, Diane Evenson, Sally Krug, Ron Smedhammer, Marlene Helland, Kathy Heitkamp, Connie Cink, Verna I. Anderson, Bonita Aberle, Emilie Halvorson, Joan C. Wilbur, Karen Fust, Duane Baumgartner, James Eaton, Edward Fields, Richard Rapheal, Johanna Limvere, and Lois Weber.

Pi Omega Pi Meets For Lunch, Business

Pi Omega Pi, a national business education fraternity, held a noon luncheon meeting October 13 to discuss graduate scholarships and the national convention to be held in Chicago over the Christmas holidays.

This year's officers of Pi Omega Pi are as follows: James Burt, president; Stuart Sander, vice president; and Judy Nordgaard, secretary-treasurer.

Football Season Nears Finish

With only two games left to complete the year, the Viking eleven can look back on a fairly successful season. Here is a rundown on the 1960 Viking year.

This season's opener against Wahpeton on Sept. 15 ended in a 14-6 victory for STC. Two touchdown runs by Bill Svenkesen coupled with the place-kicks of Mike Vanyo made this a rather easy victory.

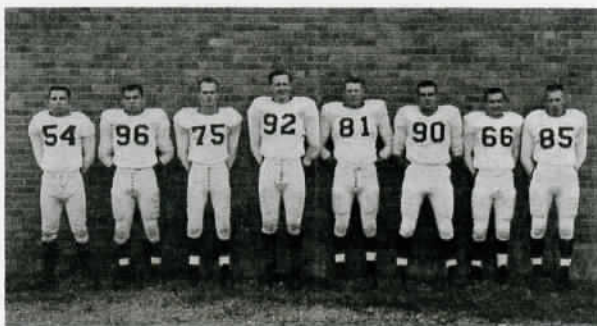

September 23, the Vikings played host to the Minot Beavers who returned the favor by winning 13-7. A touchdown run by Bill Svenkesen with Mike Vanyo's conversion tallied up STC's points.

A week later three men entered the scoring column to give STC a 21-14 win over the Ellendale Dusties. Mike Vanyo, Bill Svenkesen and Ed Nystrom earned 18 points through touchdown runs, and Vanyo's three conversions made the score 21-14.

STC's Homecoming game against Mayville was the topic of interest for many weeks preceding the game. Fighting spirit was high right up to the game. Mayville quick capitalized on two breaks to gain two touchdowns. STC's Mike Vanyo carried the ball over the goal line for the single Viking touchdown and made the score 7 points by booting the conversion. Though the Comets dominated the game it can be credited to Valley City's fine line and backfield play that kept the score as it was.

Fans who attended the Viking-Dickinson game saw what may be termed a gridiron classic. Against a team which is rated as one of the highest in the conference, the Big Red showed remarkable ability by leading through the game up until the closing minutes.

STC Loses Eight Seniors

Last Saturday night, eight members of STC football team played their final game as Vikings.

Among those playing their last game is Allen Larson whose home is in Valley City. Al is majoring in physical education and social science, and a minor in biology. This year he played tackle.

William Lewinski, who hails from Toledo, Ohio, is majoring in physical education and minoring in social science. He played in the backfield this year.

Jack Ramey, a senior from Linton, North Dakota, has a double major in mathematics and physical education. Jack played guard.

With a major in physical education and minors in geography and social science, Robert Reynolds, whose home is in Flasher, North Dakota, is pursuing an elementary degree curriculum. He finished his college football days as a back.

Majoring in physical education and minoring in history is Joe Stanczyk, whose home is Cheyenne, Wyoming. Joe is working toward an elementary degree. He played a back position for the Vikings.

Curtis Thompson, a senior from Kenmare, North Dakota, played center with the Vikings this year. He is pursuing a secondary curriculum with majors in biology and physical education, and a minor in industrial arts.

Mike Vanyo, whose home is in Grand Forks, North Dakota, is majoring in physical education and minoring in industrial arts and art. Mike performed in the backfield.

Bill Svenkesen hails from Frazee, Minn. He is majoring in physical education and has minors in geography and social science. Bill also played as a back this year.

Wrestling Meeting To Be Held Nov. 7

STC wrestling will begin Monday, November 7, with a meeting at the gym. Time of the meeting will be announced at a later date. The football players have until November 14 when they will start wrestling.

Any man wanting to try out is welcome and should bear in mind that size or experience is not a beginning necessity. Coach Evans said that there will be a big "demand for the lightweight wrestlers." These men are in the 123-150 pound division.

Since there are weight classifications the wrestlers will not, and cannot be overmatched.

Hespies First in Bowling League

STC College Bowling League is now entering its sixth week with the Hespies in first position.

Eight teams which meet at Valley Lanes every Wednesday afternoon at 4:00 are as follows: The Hespies, EBC, Vets, Lucky Strikers, Tau Sigs, Lettermen's, Feared 5, and Questionable 5.

When this year's bowling season ends, the six best keglers from the College League will bowl in the inter-collegiate Louis Strack League to be held either at Jamestown or Valley City.

Each week the keglers with the highest series or highest singles wins one dollar. If he is good enough and grabs both the highest series and singles, he wins double that amount.

It is not too late to be in the league so anyone interested in joining should contact League President Leo Schmidt.

Little is ever heard of the men who run cross country, one of the toughest of the individual competitive sports. It originated in ancient Greece long before Christ and continues today as then with only minor changes having taken place.

Top notch physical condition is tirelessly worked for and acquired by today's cross country teams as STC's men have proved in their three non-official meets this year.

Saturday, Oct. 15, the team journeyed to Aberdeen, S. D., where, running against seven other colleges, they placed third. Three of STC's eight man team rated among the ten top participants. They were Edroy Kringstad, Rollie Holter, and Don Klemm, in that order.

Two days later the men went to Jamestown where Kringstad, Holter, Bob Reith, Klemm, and Ron Knauss tallied 21 points to come home victors.

Here in Valley City at a dual meet on October 17, the Vikings again defeated Jamestown. Ed Kringstad, third quarter senior and team captain, took first place again.

At present only Valley City, Dickinson and Jamestown colleges take active part in cross country in this conference. The day is coming when all the colleges in the conference will take active part and this sport goes down in the books as an official.

Johnsonites Lead in Volley Ball Tourney

"Exercise to keep trim! The results will be worth it," said Miss Charlotte Graichen in trying to develop enthusiasm among WAA members, when they participate in sports events.

Blasting off to an early lead in the volleyball tournaments is Arlene Johnson's team with 2 wins. Diane Trautman is in second place with 1 win and 1 loss, while Karen Linzbach and Charlotte Tolton are tied for third place. Meredith Rasmussen is placing fourth with 1 tie and 1 loss. Pat Welch, on the other hand is holding down last place with 2 losses on her record.

Seniors serve as referees. Muriel Neys, Jackey Plankey, Sherry Blixt, Eunice Harju, Beulah Liudahl, and Donna Lukes are officials during the volleyball tournaments. These girls were chosen to gain experience before they teach physical education.

Two Will Attend Union Confab

STC Student Council President Dan O'Connor, and council Vice-President Jim Bjorkland, will represent Valley City at the annual college Student Union Conference, to be held at Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Friday and Saturday, November 4 and 5.

Rules and regulations used in governing a student union, how to get a student union, and other important topics pertaining to student unions will be discussed at the conference by delegates from North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, and Canada colleges.

Both delegates will report on the conference activities at a later date.

Seven From Faculty Participate at NDEA

Seven STC faculty members served on the program for the seventy-third annual meeting of the North Dakota Education Association, which was held in Grand Forks, October 19, 20, and 21.

STC participant, Dean L. H. Bruhn, headed a discussion on Professional Welfare and Salary Committees, while Miss Mabel Snoeyenbos served on a panel for business education. Mr. George Kennedy was a speaker, and chairman of, the geography group at the convention. Superintendent H. O. Pearce of the College High School was chairman of a group for the National Association of Student Teaching, and Mr. Jack Donovan was on a panel for the North Dakota Music Educators' Association. Participating in a newly organized Kin-

On-Campus Parking Committee Formed

An On-Campus Parking Rules Committee has been appointed, by the student council, to study and enforce the parking regulations here at STC. The purpose of this committee, which is made up of students, is to make the best use of the parking facilities we now have. One of the first steps in this program was the registration of all student automobiles which used parking space at the college. Warning tickets have been used up to now in order to prepare students and others for enforcement of the usual parking regulations which are in force in any other area.

Five violations have been observed most often by the committee. These are: parking on the wrong side of the street, parking in the driveways of the parking lots, parking near fire hydrants, double parking, and parking on the boulevard.

The committee may institute a permit system later in order to distribute the parking to better advantage. The main problem at present seems to be the eagerness of everyone to park in the lot south of the library, while the lot along College Street is left partially unoccupied.

The committee hopes that money will be available next year to hard-surface the parking areas. This would improve parking facilities immensely.

November 11 Set as Vet's Day

Classes will be dismissed Friday afternoon, November 11, in honor of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. A Vets' Day program will be presented at 11:10 by the American Legion at official convocation.

ergarten group was Miss Opal Wooldridge. Mr. Bill Osmon was chairman of the Thursday luncheon.

Education Meeting To Begin Sunday

Tom McCord, Lynn Clancy, Richard Green, Darlene Hartman, Joan Lundholm, and Richard Twete, accompanied by Mr. Murray Schwartz and Miss Helen Movius will travel to Jamestown, North Dakota, November 6, 7, and 8 where they will attend a conference on higher education.

Curriculum elements and problems, how to gain closer relationships between students and faculty members, and other important aspects of America's present higher education will be the main topics discussed at the meeting.

Gosh frosh!

how'd you catch on so quick? Catch on to the fact that Coca-Cola is the hep drink on campus, I mean. Always drink it, you say? Well—how about dropping over to the dorm and downing a sparkling Coke or two with the boys. The man who's for Coke is the man for us.
