

NOVEMBER 4, 2008

This day WILL be remembered in History. This was the day when a Great Nation began its journey down the slippery slope of self destruction. This was the day when the majority of the people of this country elected a candidate from the PRO ABORTION Party of America.

Michelle Obama said, that for the first time in her life, she was proud to be an American and I say that, for the first time in my life, I am ASHAMED to belong to a country that has such little regard for the sanctity of life. On behalf of my country, I apologize to the world. A country whose citizens would not stand up to the culture of death that is invading our once proud land .

Our country is imitating the torture cells of Germany behind the walls of Planned Parenthood where daily the most helpless are being exterminated. They are not being gassed, but rather being crushed, sucked out of the womb or broken to pieces, all in the name of Pro Choice. If by chance the baby survives the horrible ordeal, the baby is placed in a biochemical bag and left to die, unassisted. All in the name of Freedom Of Choice. A freedom that the newly elected president is intent upon becoming the law of our country. This is only the first step on the slippery slope.

Yes, we will remember November 4, 2008, not because the first African American president was elected, but for being the day voters hailed a black man as their savior and rejected God, who is the Creator of Life.
